

GOVERNOR WALTON AND HIS COUNSEL LEAVE COURTROOM

Withdraws From Trial As Near Riot Occurs In The Courtroom.

STATE PROCEEDS WITH THE TRIAL

Consider Removal Certain
As Walton Will Offer
No Defense.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 17.—In a dramatic court this morning Gov. J. C. Walton announced that he would withdraw with his attorneys from the trial.

Walton, after a brief talk, arose and accompanied by Mrs. Walton and his attorneys, marched out of the courtroom.

The state announced that it would continue the trial. Walton's removal from office was considered certain as he will offer no defense.

"I have been sitting here for ten days watching my trial," Walton declared in a voice filled with emotion, "I don't want to criticize any members of the court."

"No doubt there are some members of the court who want to give me a new trial but it is plain to see that I cannot get a just hearing in this court."

"Therefore, I am withdrawing with my attorneys from this courtroom. You may proceed as you will."

"Nothing I can offer will change the situation."

"I do not care to subject myself to humiliation nor do I want my family to be subjected to the humiliation."

Near Riot In Court
Gov. Walton's sensational withdrawal followed action of the court in refusing to permit introduction of testimony as to why he issued special police commissions and a verdict which excluded from the record all reference to Article 17 which charged that he unlawfully issued police commissions.

A near riot occurred in the courtroom after Walton left. President pro tem Anglin declared he had been informed that subpoenas for all defense witnesses should be withdrawn.

L. C. Sprague, an attorney for the governor, who had remained unnoticed, jumped to his feet and denied the assertion.

Oredt had been restored when court resumed after a recess.

Attorney Tom Neal, for the defense was brought into court by the marshal. His alleged statement as to not summoning Walton witnesses resulted in the clash between Anglin and Sprague.

When Neal said that he considered it a needless expense for the state to summon further defense witnesses the court voted that no defense testimony would be needed or heard.

Veterans' Bureau Inquiry Develops Racy Testimony; Attracting Society Women

Washington, Nov. 17.—The senatorial investigation of the United States veterans' bureau, started as a solemn judicial proceeding, was "rumored" today with the inquiry rapidly developing a racy record of alleged amours and indiscretions on the part of men and women who have been familiar figures about Washington.

Charges of graft and conspiracy against Col. Charles R. Forbes, former director, apparently have been submerged in attacks upon his private life. In retaliation, witnesses friendly to him were assailing the character of Elias H. Mortimer, the government's star witness.

Because of the prolonged proceedings, Chairman Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, announced a night session would be held tonight. These will be continued next week.

Scores of fashionably gowned women stormed the committee room today to hear more of the spicy testimony, although the hearing officially is given over to an investigation of the veterans' bureau.

Instead of dry accounts on government "red tape," women spectators wanted to hear more of what they say "she was crying, her dress was torn, her eyes swollen, she had been beaten."

SPAIN MAY ENTER NEW ALLIANCE OF EUROPEAN POWERS

Crisis Affecting Entente
Dimmed By British Political Campaign.

FEELING AGAINST FRANCE GROWING

England And Italy Oppose
Occupation Of Hamburg
And Frankfurt.

London, Nov. 17.—A new alignment of European powers appeared likely today as a result of the breach between England and France.

Italy is supporting England and is preparing to draw into close relations with Spain. It is possible that a mutual agreement may be reached embracing Great Britain, Italy and Spain.

The new crisis affecting the Anglo-French entente has been somewhat dimmed in British eyes by the political campaign. It appears certain that Great Britain will not make any further concessions to France nor take any new steps regarding Germany and reparations until after the election Dec. 6.

It will be up to the new government to take definite international steps toward a new entente if the alliance between England and France is officially broken.

In this connection, officials pointed out today, to all intents and purposes, the Anglo-French entente has been inoperative for nearly a year. Neither England or France, however, wished to take responsibility for denouncing it officially.

Many British statesmen do not want the entente broken off completely. But they feel that, with Italy's active support and America's moral support, it is possible the new government may be able to make a move which will end the present impossible situation.

Anti-French feeling is growing in some quarters. It is predicted that the new penalties proposed by France may cause Germany to throw over the disarmament provisions of the Versailles treaty. This would bring about new French military action which would result in the greatest chaos in central Europe.

Great Britain and Italy have exchanged views upon the various angles of the situation and both are opposed to the occupation of Hamburg and Frankfurt.

TARIFF ATTACKED BY BRITISH LABOR

Baldwin's Policy Attacked
In Manifesto Issued
By Labor Party.

London, Nov. 17.—The British Labor party jumped into the political fray with both feet today, issuing a manifesto denouncing Premier Baldwin's protective tariff policy and his program to relieve unemployment.

"A protective tariff is no remedy for unemployment," said the manifesto. "It will foster a spirit of profiteering which will poison the life of the nation."

The premier's plan to solve the unemployment problem was attacked as inadequate. The Labor party is demanding widespread public works to give employment to thousands of men who are now idle on account of the shutdown of the mines and mills.

"The Labor party intends to restore to the people their lost rights in land," said the document.

The Laborites and Liberals are standing side by side in the political fight against the Tories.

KLANSMEN READY FOR BIG PARADE IN CITY TONIGHT

Initiation Ceremonies At Field North Of City
Also Scheduled.

Although the cold, damp weather was expected to thin the ranks of many visiting delegations, Salem Klan officials were busy all day Saturday with final preparations for the great influx of visitors to Salem Saturday evening to attend the first big gathering of Ku Klux Klansmen and women this city has witnessed.

Some flags were displayed in the windows of merchants during the day and it was expected that others would appear before the big parade, scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m. from the field north of the city on the Albany rd.

Delegations of Klansmen from northern Ohio cities began arriving late Saturday afternoon. While no estimates of the crowd were made, Klan officials said they were expecting several thousand to participate in the parade and the ceremonies following.

A large class of candidates will be initiated at the tented city erected by the Klan and an ex-race and fireworks display also were on the program. Stunt flying by a Youngstown aviator was advertised.

SUSPECT HELD FOR BOMBING IN TWO CITIES

Man Arrested In Sebring
For Dynamiting Home
In Steubenville.

TRACE TWO SALEM BOMBINGS TO GANG

Officers Claim They Have Enough Evidence To Convict Man.

With the arrest of Marko Meolo, 49, at Sebring Friday, Chief of Police Thompson says he believes the recent bombing of the home of Eloy McKee and Dr. S. E. Conrad can be traced to the blackhanders of which Meolo is a member.

Meolo was arrested in a pottery in Sebring by E. J. Moran, a deputy sheriff of Steubenville. The officer, in arresting Meolo accused him of being one of men who bombed homes of two Salem men but Meolo would not talk. Chief Thompson, however, after consulting with Alliance police, stated that he is sure the man is connected with the outrages perpetrated in Salem last month.

Meolo was taken to Steubenville, there to await trial for the killing of two Steubenville dry agents and also for the bombing of the Smithfield home. A representative of the city of Salem will be on hand and will hear the evidence.

Chief Thompson said Saturday that the man could not be brought to Salem for the present because of the charge he must face in Steubenville.

Meolo is said to have told the deputy after his arrest that he is the father-in-law of the famous Bartoli brothers, who are held in Steubenville for connection with the robbery of a Mt. Pleasant bank and the shooting down in cold blood of the cashier. Officers here believe that Meolo is one of the most dangerous outlaws in the state and it is hoped with his arrest many crimes can be cleared up.

AUDITOR REPORTS NEW FIGURES FOR TAXING DISTRICTS

Only Two County Districts
Show Reduction In Tax Rate.

In the revision of the tax rate of Columbiana county, caused by additional mills being added as a result of the election, the rate in St. Clair school district has been reduced from 21.80 to 21, and the rate in the Negley school districts has been lowered from 19.10 to 18.30.

Of the 70 different taxing districts in the county, revision has been made in the rate in 39 districts—two downward and 37 upward.

The former rate in Wellsville, as listed before the last election, was placed at 25.30 and the new sheet shows the rate now to be 23.40.

In some school districts three mills have been added to the duplicate.

While no change has been made in the levy for the Salem corporation district which stands at 21.70, an advance is shown in the levy for the East Liverpool corporation district. The old rate, as officially published by County Treasurer Jo Pike recently, was placed at 23.80 and the revision has advanced this rate to 25.30.

A somewhat similar advance is shown in the revision of the rate for East Palestine, formerly quoted at 23.60 but which now stands for the current tax year at 28.60. This shows an increase of five mills in the East Palestine corporation rate.

The new rate sheet as announced by County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton, shows the new rates and a comparison of the former rates in the following districts.

America's Hearthstone
An encouraging contrast with former President Wilson's recent dark prophecies with reference to America's future are the following words of President Coolidge:
"The destiny, the greatness of America lies around the hearthstone. If thrift and industry are taught there, and the example of self-sacrifice appears, if honor abide there, and high ideals, if there the building of fortune be subordinate to the building of character, America will live in security, rejoicing in an abundant prosperity and good government at home and in peace, respect and confidence abroad. If these virtues be absent there is no power that can supply these blessings. Look well, then, to the hearthstone, therein all hope for America lies."
In millions of American homes these blessings and ideals abide, despite the gloomy indictment of the former president, who so sadly magnifies his individual judgment in a limitless self-isolation of uncompromising finality.
To the hearthstone let us look, for there lies not only the political and material hope of the nation, but the world's best hope for peaceful accord in the future. By these hearthstones stand ready the unfaltering champions of national righteousness and duty; upon them glow the purifying fires of a people's consciences.
What a contrast is presented by conditions in the Old World! There thrift and industry are in bonds; self-sacrifice these glories in perversion; there honor is abused and high ideals submerged beneath the floods of human passion.
Not justly may we be condemned for failure to enter into the mad mutations overseas, for even our kindly proffered offers to assist in untangling the wretched skeins of ominous involvement are met with blunt refusal of synic sneer. Europe wants America as an active participant in her complex struggles, not as a detached, unselfish guide and friend.
We should have faith in the serene optimism expressed in the words of the president above quoted. No harm can come to America while the sanctity of the national hearthstone is cherished and maintained as it is at present. It were folly to attempt to overthrow international law and political madness to let the domestic ward-robe, however theoretically commendable. The appeal and influence of the American hearthstone must continue to be the nation's sovereign talisman of security in the present and of hope for the future.

TRACTORS USED IN LOGGING
Have Displaced Ancient Methods as the Mahogany Fields Are Becoming Depleted.
Tractors are being used in increasing numbers in the mahogany industry in British Honduras, according to a report to the Department of Commerce from Consul Early, Belize. For over 200 years there has been a more or less successful exploitation of the mahogany and cedar forests by means of primitive although expensive methods, but with the depletion of easily accessible timber more modern methods of logging are required for profitable exploitation.
The result has been an increase in the use of tractors for hauling logs. The largest mahogany contractor in British Honduras has invested nearly $100,000 in tractors manufactured in the United States during the present mahogany season. With the use of about seventy tractors this operator expects to get out about 5,000,000 feet board measure. Several other companies are also using tractors. It is estimated that about seventy-five tractors have been imported in the past twelve months for hauling logs.

Patent Given to the People.
For the benefit of the public, the government has patented a water-resistant glue developed by one of its research departments. Any person may obtain the directions for its manufacture by applying to the bureau. It is an improvement on a glue made during the war by adding certain copper salts to the formula, giving it more strength and resistance to moisture, and better working qualities.—Popular Mechanics.

A Genius
A crusty banker who had risen to affluence from a humble start on a farm had half promised a boyhood friend to give the latter's son a place in his office. The old farmer came in to talk the matter over and was rather timorous about the boy's qualifications, explaining that he was just a country lad who knew how to plow, take care of pigs and milk. He wound up by stating: "The boy knows enough to keep his mouth shut. That's about all I can say."
The listener for the first time displayed interest.
"That's enough," declared the banker. "That's education enough for any man."

FARMER-BANKER MEETING NOTES
A recent farmer-banker conference, held at Fargo, North Dakota, as one of a series being held under the auspices of the Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association, to aid in developing permanently better agricultural conditions, was productive of a number of valuable and definite measures for a program of action.
Reduction of wheat acreage: It was recommended that the farmers reduce acreage 50 per cent from that of 1923.
Diversified farming: The conference declared that the ultimate success of agriculture depends upon proper diversification.
Orderly marketing: Financial support was approved to assist the orderly marketing of farm products.
Encourage Homeowners: Support was pledged to all movements designed to encourage home seekers.
Recommendations for immediate relief: Bankers and business men were urged to assist in providing storage facilities at once to meet the needs of their home communities. The bankers were urged to accept storage certificates for loans on the stored grain and if their reserves prevented them from carrying the storage certificate it was urged that the Intermediate Credit Banks be asked to discount these certificates for the banks.
Resolutions looking toward legislative relief were adopted, and a special committee appointed to follow them up. The resolutions were as follows:

MERCHANT CREDIT EXPENSIVE
Investigations indicate that farmers may be materially benefited by demonstrating to them the losses they incur through the use of merchant credit instead of bank credit. In conferences arranged by the Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association, it has frequently developed that farmers in many instances are thoughtlessly carrying heavy burdens of mercantile credit.
The cost to farmers of merchant credit often runs as high as 50 per cent annually. The United States Department of Agriculture has made surveys of credit and insurance conditions in North Carolina, in which eight hundred farmers were interviewed, and which showed that 433 were relying on merchant credit. The average cost was 26.6 per cent, figured annually. The average rate paid by white farmers was 21.8 per cent, while that for the colored was 32.2 per cent. This difference is attributed to the smaller average amount of credit used by the colored farmers, the greater risk involved in credit to them and to an inclination to take advantage of the less fortunate class.

PRANKS OF THE LODESTONE

Gems Glued to the Ground and Nails Drawn Out of Boots Are Among Stories Told.

Swedish sailors tell queer tales about the country near the Arctic circle where lodestones are found. Hunters, they say, have laid their guns down and found them glued to the ground when they came to pick them up again. Men have had to take off their boots to get home again, when the nails in them have stuck closely to the ground, says the Detroit News.

There is the tale of the Lodestone mountain in the Arabian Nights, where a vessel was drawn toward it and toward it until, when it approached the fatal shore, all the nails were drawn out and the ship sank to the bottom of the sea.

The Viking sailors used a raft as their compass. They put a lodestone on a little raft and it floated always with the one end towards the Lode star. By this fashion they could tell in the daytime as well as at night in what direction they were sailing, provided the water was still enough to let them float their little raft.

Pencils Wasted by Americans. Open-handed Americans are the most lavish users of pencils in the world, the United States alone using twice as many as all Europe, said Lottar W. Faber, the "Pencil King."

"The European uses a pencil until there is barely anything for him to hold in his fingers," said Mr. Faber, "while the American throws it away when it is hardly more than half used. America uses about a million and a half gross a year, nine or ten pencils per capita. Europe uses only half that amount."

TURK WOMEN FORGING AHEAD

Restrictions on Their Freedom Are Disappearing One After Another, Says a Writer.

The contrast between the status of these Moslem women and the position of women in Turkey proper grows steadily. In fact, the restrictions surrounding Turkish women disappear more and more almost daily. Four years ago the Turkish woman shopper in Pera used to throw her veil back while in the European quarter, but would draw it over her face immediately on crossing the bridge to Stambul. Today the hanum of the upper class hardly wears the veil at all. It hangs down from the side of the chashaf in a knot, and figures merely as an ornament.

A number of Moslem girls of the Turkish capital have become pupils of Robert college, the American school picturesquely situated on the hills of Bebek, by the Bosphorus. The number of Turkish women active in professions has greatly increased. During my recent visit to Constantinople I found that a young lady whom I had first met six years before had but two terms left to attain the degree of doctor of philosophy, with the ultimate aim of entering government service. The rare abilities of Halide Edib Hanoum, the well-known Turkish woman author, have been rewarded by her nomination as member of public instruction in the Turkish cabinet at Ankara.

The last remnants of polygamy virtually disappeared with the ascent to the caliphate of his majesty Abdul Medjid. He is the first ruler of the Osman dynasty who adheres to the western form of matrimony.—Edward J. Bing, in Current History Magazine.

LANDLORD OF THE LONG HEAD

French House Owner Devises Scheme to Enlist Tenants' Interest in the Property.

The constant increase in the price of material and the wages of labor tends to make the upkeep of any building an onerous affair for the owner. The repairs called for by exacting tenants go to increase the already heavy overhead. This is further augmented by the carelessness which many of them show in allowing children and servants to deteriorate the apartments they rent.

A Paris house owner has just invented an ingenious method of making his tenants his allies in the care and upkeep of the apartment house he owns, says the Washington Star. He has offered a prize of two months' rent for the best-kept apartment and has made the tenants themselves a committee of inspection and award. As a consequence his house is now cleaned and polished from basement to garret, children are carefully watched when at play to prevent their doing any damage, while the necessity of care of the premises is impressed on servants and tradespeople.

Each of the tenants, in the hope of gaining the prize, competes with his neighbors in care and cleanliness. Paint and paper are kept spick and span, white floors and staircases shine with varnish. As any application for repairs would be a confession of want and care, the bill for the upkeep of the establishment has fallen to zero. The amount awarded as a prize to the most careful tenant is therefore more than covered by the diminution of the overhead.

Not Enough Forest Protection.

Thirty-nine states contain important areas of forest land, but only 27 have organized state forest protection on a more or less adequate scale. Systematic fire protection of privately owned forest lands is sadly lacking. At least 166,000,000 acres of such land now receive no protection and on many other areas the protection furnished is incomplete and inadequate. An average expenditure of between two and one-half and three cents an acre, or a total of $9,250,000, would fairly protect all of the privately owned forest land in the United States. The task is at present two-thirds undone.

For Value Received.

A Boston woman relates that during her trip to England she visited a certain place and employed a guide to show her around. After he had explained the principal attractions of the neighborhood she remarked as she handed him his fee: "I trust that what you have told me is absolutely true. I never feel I should pay for untruths."

"Well, ma'am," responded the old fellow, scanning the coin, "truth or untruth, ye've had a good shillin's worth."

Better Animals in Canada.

There have been large increases in the number of pure bred animals in Canada during the decade between the last two censuses. The increase in the number of pure bred horses between 1911 and 1921 was 44 per cent; of cattle, 139 per cent; of sheep, 75 per cent, and of swine, nearly 44 per cent. The number of pure bred horses in the Dominion in 1921 was 47,782; cattle, 296,656; sheep, 93,643, and of swine, 81,143.

Growth of Bank Deposits.

A single New York city bank of today carries deposits equaling more than 21 times the total deposits in all the city's banks in 1847. The deposits in New York banks in the year 1847 totaled $28,000,000. These banks carried $11,000,000 of specie and had a circulation of about $7,000,000.

Blames Sawyer For Vets Bureau Failure.

General C. E. Sawyer.

"Politics and Sawyer" were blamed by Col. Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veterans' Bureau, for the failure of the bureau to carry on its work efficiently under Forbes' direction. Testifying before the senatorial investigating committee in Washington, Col. Forbes swore Brig-Gen. Charles E. Sawyer of Marion, O., President Harding's personal physician, had so interfered with the bureau that its efficiency was impaired.

47 Rabbits Bagged For Veterans Night

Philip Triem camp No. 43, Sons of Veterans, will observe Veterans night, Monday night with a rabbit supper at the hall, Broadway. At this time they will have as their guests members of Triem's post No. 30, G. A. R. and their auxiliary. A program will entertain. Forty-seven rabbits were bagged by the members who went hunting.

Quits Tobacco and Oversleeps.
It may seem strange that I have been chewing tobacco since I was twenty-two months old and am still chewing, says a correspondent of the Lebanon (Mo.) Enterprise. About two and one-half years ago I made a resolution to quit and did quit for twenty-five days, feeling no ill effects until about the end of that period, when all of a sudden I began to have sleepy spells and had to quit reading.

Many times I did not know when I went to bed, but when I went to sleep my wife would wake me up some time the next day. I finally got afraid to go up in the woods for fear I might go to sleep and the big snake would carry me to its den and swallow me. So I broke my resolution by taking another chew and the sleepy spell was broken as suddenly as it came on. Can any one explain why all this happened?

"First-Aid Auto Kit" Latest.
Automobilists used to be content with carrying—by way of extraordinary accessories—a fire extinguisher, a saw for the baby and a tow rope, but with the list of those injured in auto accidents growing daily, some are beginning to add another piece of equipment, and an enterprising manufacturer of hospital goods is capitalizing this new need, says the New York Sun and Globe. He has provided an "automobile first-aid kit," which consists of the articles necessary to render first aid to persons injured while working on an automobile or driving it.

Perpetual Soda.
There is one girl in New York who is "fed up." Her job is to drink nut sodas, sodas, all the soda fountain concoctions there are, or to order them, at any rate, and go through the motions. She is a spotter. Besides detecting dishonesty and seeing if the ticket systems of the fountains work properly, there is the service business to look at, satisfied customers and all of that. The technique is just the same as in spotting in a jewelry store. The first essential is complete disguise as an ordinary customer and the second is alertness.

Paid Just the Same.
"What do you make a week?" said a magistrate to an Italian organ-grinder.
"Four pound, sare."
"What! Four pounds for grinding an organ?"
"No, sare; not for da grind—but for da shut up and go away!"—London Titbits.

LELAND STARTS 2-WEEK WATCH "TRADE-INS"

Salem Jeweler's Prediction Of One Year Ago Fulfilled. That Other Jewelers Would Adopt New System.

The Leland Watch Shop, Jewelers, at 68 Main street, have announced another "watch trade-in sale" for the last two weeks in November.

Mr. Leland predicted when he announced his first trade-in sale last November that others would adopt this plan and says that judging from many requests he has received for an outline of this plan, that it is now quite universally used.

In this unique feature in selling watches a certain amount is allowed on the purchase of a new watch. "It is simply a natural development of the watch business," explains Mr. Leland. "There isn't any reason why people should carry or wear a watch that is out of date any more than to wear obsolete clothes, or drive an auto of the 1910 period."

"The fact cannot be overlooked to-day that the world is moving at a very fast pace. Styles in Watches, Jewelry, houses, clothes, furniture are quickly changing to meet present day needs. There is no reason why 'trade-ins' should not apply to other lines as well as automobiles."

BINGVILLE PROS SAY THEY'LL WIN FROM SCHAFERS

After their defeat at the hands of the Columbiana Independents last week by the score of 3 to 0 the Washington Pros are said to have taken the vow that they would not be beaten any more this year. At 2:30 p. m. Sunday that team from Bingville plays the Schaffer Independents at Centennial park and it will be a battle.

The Schafers are a much lighter team. Most of the players are younger. But at that it has all season been one of the foremost teams in this part of the state. The Independents will keep Bingville on the run if that team, Washingtonville, is to keep its reported vow.

Both teams have agreed to not load up. This will be fair to both teams, and make a more even game than it might otherwise be.

About all of Washingtonville will be on hand to see the game. It is a traditional battle between Salem and Bingville, and for that reason, if for no other, the contest will draw big managers Webber and Tetlow report their squads in the best of shape and ready for the whistle.

RUBY TINSMEN GIRLS' CAPTAIN

Ruby Tinsman has been chosen captain of the Salem High girls' basketball squad for the year 1923-24. This is Ruby's second year in Salem High school.

In her freshman year she played on the varsity at Willoughby at forward, the team that year being state champs.

In her junior year Ruby was to have been captain of the team, but she moved to Salem.

Last year she was the life of the team and helped to run up a high score for the Red and Black many a time.

Four letter girls remain from last year, Captain Tinsman, Ted Cosgrove, Blitz Calkins and Danny Willman. For the first few practices that have been held about 35 girls have turned out.

CANTON BATTLER WILL MEET AMES

Canton, Nov. 17.—Ohio lightweight boxing honors will be decided in Canton next Monday night when Ted Smith, Canton's sensational glovester, meets Willie Ames, veteran Italian of Akron, in a 12-round bout in the auditorium under the auspices of the Citizens A. C.

Not since the days of Jack Britton, ex-welterweight champion, has a great enthusiasm been so heavy, indicating the enthusiasm of fans of Canton and Akron as well as those of other towns in this section.

Three bouts in addition to the light weight championship will have been arranged by Matchmaker Tom Lennon of the Citizens A. C. They will be refereed by Eddie Davis of Akron.

SHORT SPORT SHOTS

Harry Jones will fight two battles in a week. On Dec. 10 he meets Gene Tunney in New York while on Dec. 2, a week before, he matches blows with Bryan Downey at Pittsburgh.

Jimmie Wilde, former flyweight champ, is in a serious condition in a London hospital. Wilde has a spot on his lungs and will never fight again.

Eddie Almsmith, former Card backstop, who was released in mid season as a free agent, has been secured by the Giants.

Both Youngstown and Akron High schools are after post-season games. The champ of each city will play an out of state team.

John Pence, halfback on the Coe college eleven, drop-kicked 55 yards last Saturday. There have only been three longer kicks in history than that boot.

Strangler Lewis, heavyweight wrestling champ of the world, will marry former Princess Marie Troski of Petrograd before the first of the year. He has been married and got a divorce so he could marry the titled "heir" of Russia.

The Tournament of Roses committee at Pasadena, now that they see the Navy are but a second rate team, want to get another eleven for the New Year's game but the Navy states that it will hold the committee to its contract.

COURT NEWS

Accepts Settlement

Although he filed an action for $10,000 damages against Homer Lewis of Wellsville for alleged injuries sustained while he was coasting on Clark ave., Wellsville, in January, 1922, Ralph Johnson, aged 11, through his next friend accepted $150 in full adjustment of his claim, which was up for hearing in common pleas court.

Young Johnson with other lads was sled riding on Clark ave. and when they crashed into the Lewis vehicle, Johnson was injured.

Divorces Granted

Mari L. Tucker was granted a divorce decree Friday from her husband, Elsha R. Tucker of East Liverpool when no appearance was entered in pool on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

It was testified that Tucker had been arrested for bootlegging and had been taken before an East Palestine court; that he had pleaded guilty in police court at East Liverpool to having been with another woman, that he had beaten his wife, also that he had threatened to kill her. The court ordered Tucker, who was not in court, to pay his wife $100 within ten days and $5 per week for the support of her child, who was placed in her custody.

Mrs. Sara Wilda Ketchum, who was sent to Marysville by the probate court of this county some time ago on a delinquency charge, will soon be advised that she is no longer the wife of Albert Ketchum, Wellsville. Ketchum was given a divorce from his wife.

Two cases were dismissed at the costs of plaintiff by Judge Moore.

Special Oil for Winter Is Not Necessary

AN oil is used for just two purposes—to resist the intense heat and friction inside your motor.

Yet some motorists seem to forget this fact when cold weather comes. They change to a different oil because of some other reason entirely.

They forget that, winter or summer, the operating conditions inside a motor are identical, and that, winter or summer, they should use FREEDOM—the one oil that best protects their motor against those conditions.

FREEDOM Oil is a 100% lubricant—no "cold weather" feature is added at the expense of its lubrication properties.

Never race your motor until the oil has had a chance to be forced back to the parts that have drained during its period of idleness. Read what "OIL FACTS" says about cold weather oils—your dealer will give you one—or write us.

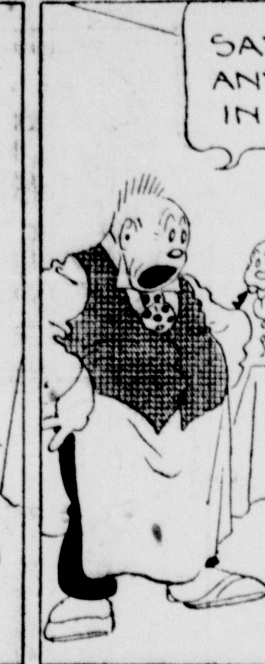

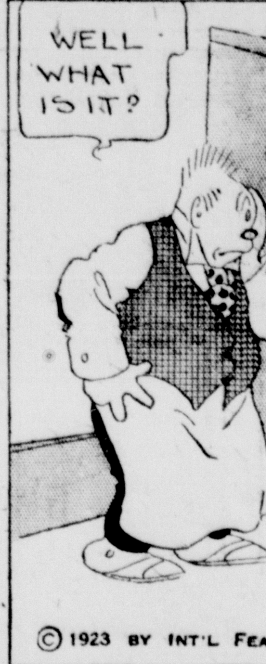

Freedom Cylinder and Engine Oil for factory use are of the same high quality as Freedom Motor Oils.

THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK

Nothing Helped until She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"When my baby was born," says Mrs. Poslusny, 106 High Street, Fair City, Michigan, "I got up too soon. It made me so sick that I was tired of living and the weakness run me down something awful. I could not get up out of bed mornings on account of my back; I thought it would break in two, and if I started to do any work I would have to lie down. I do not believe that any woman ever suffered worse than I did. I spent lots of money, but nothing helped me until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt a whole lot better after the first bottle, and I am still taking it for I am sure it is what has put me on my feet."

If you are suffering from a displacement, irregularities, backache, nervousness, headache or any other form of female weakness you should write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, for Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." It will be sent you free upon request. This book contains valuable information.

HEALTH SERVICES OF RED CROSS

PIONEER WORK UNDERTAKEN IN ALASKA, ON MAINE COAST AND IN NORTH CAROLINA.

SOME FEATURES OF PROGRAM

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington. — The American Red Cross finds that in many places under the American flag isolation has forced the people into a primitive method of existence. Three specific localities are mentioned by the organization—far away Alaska, certain sections of the Maine coast and some districts in the mountain regions of North Carolina. There are other places, of course, but these are the ones in which the Red Cross is today instituting nursing service.

In founding these services the Red Cross is carrying out the will of Miss Jane A. Delano, war-time director of the Red Cross nursing service, who experienced the rigors of outpost nursing 35 years ago in a mining camp of the Southwest. A special bequest supplies the funds required for penetrating habitations distant from the beaten paths of travel. The lessons of health will be carried to people who need instruction.

The Red Cross seems to be one of the few great institutions which have government affiliation which has been virtually immune from complaints and anything like harsh criticism. Its war service is well known, but perhaps it is not so well known that while the seemingly overwhelming duties of war work were on the hands of the organization it found time and means to be in readiness at any moment to respond to calls for assistance to places anywhere in the world which should be visited unexpectedly by disaster. The possibilities of flood, famine, fire and earthquakes were not forgotten even when great armies were grappling one with another in the Old World.

Public Health Service.
The pioneer work which is to be established in the three regions to which attention has been called is characteristic of the public health nursing service and the Red Cross. This service maintains 1,038 nurses in rural communities throughout the country. A year's accomplishment by these nurses approximates 175,000 patients cared for, 1,120,000 nursing visits to homes, and the inspection of 2,000,000 school children. The Red Cross public health service works under the direction of the local chapter, with the end in view of securing a permanent foundation for the service.

In the past year 116 such services were taken over by the taxpayers as a municipal responsibility. Public authorities, in states where legislation permits it, are quick to assume the cost of public health nursing after chapters have furnished a convincing demonstration of initial development. The federal government has recognized the excellent work of the public health nurse and on request of the commissioner of Indian affairs the Red Cross has made surveys of about fifteen Indian reservations with the view to solving health problems and establishing nursing services among the Indians.

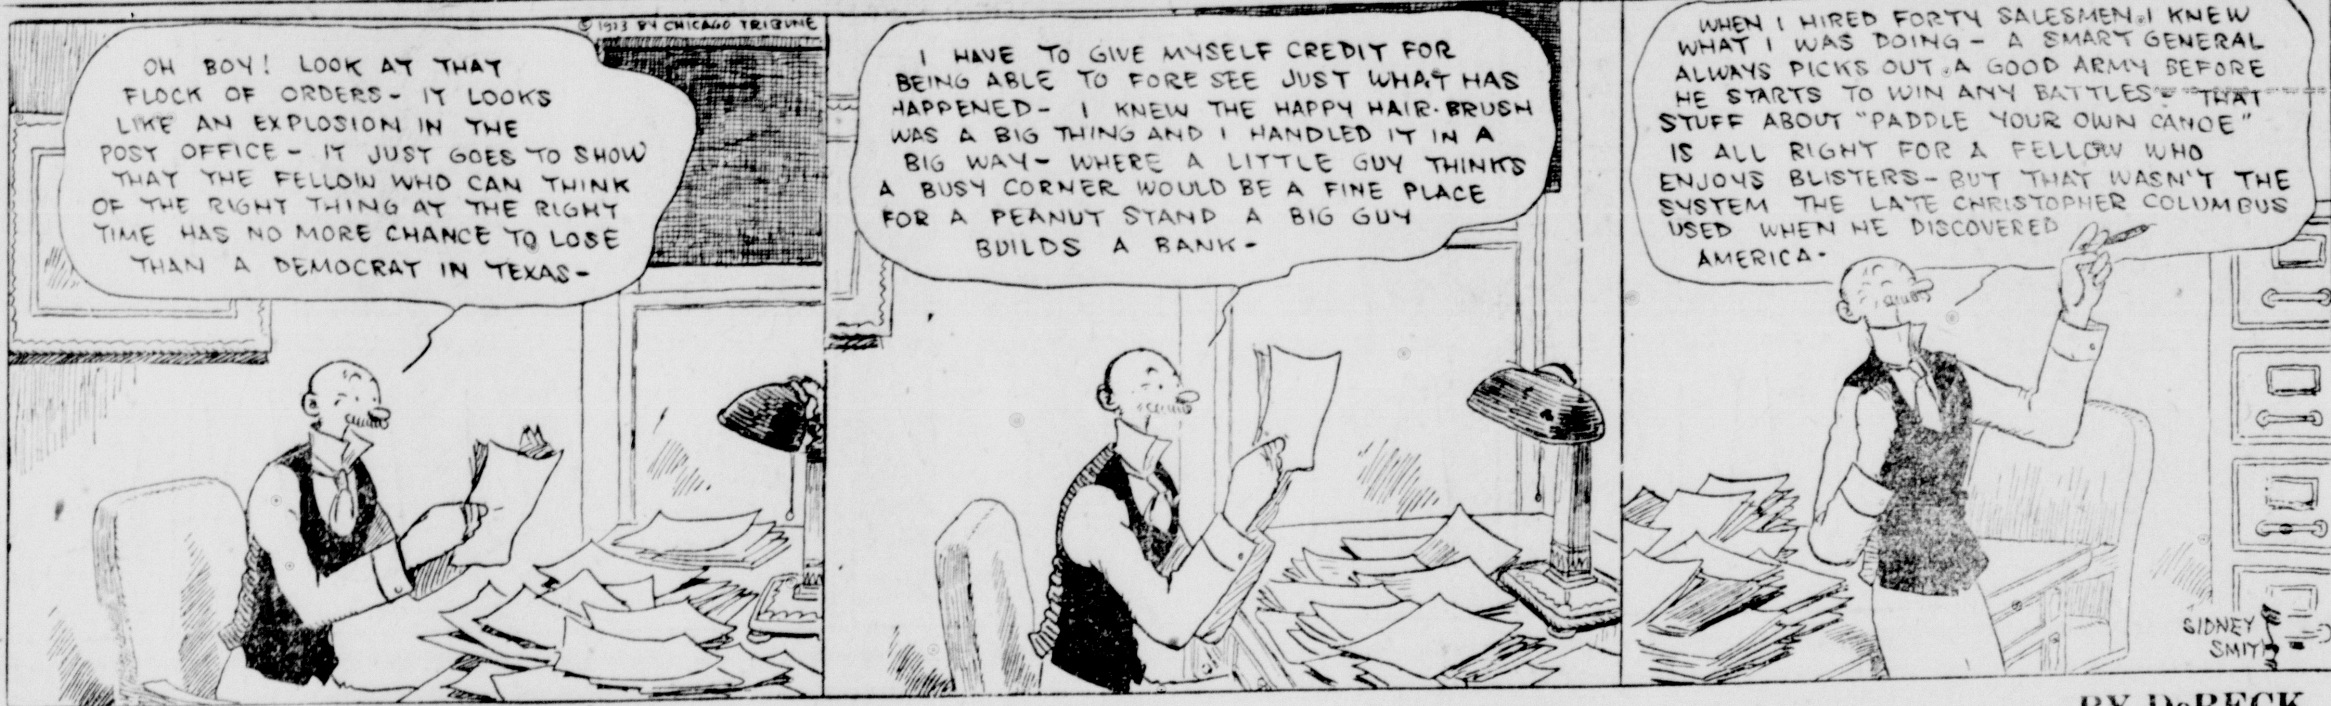

Forty Thousand Nurses Enrolled.
Another feature of the health program of the Red Cross is the enrollment of 40,000 qualified women in the Red Cross nursing service, of whom 20,000 saw service during the World war. This great force is by law a reserve of the Army Nurse corps, and upon call serves the navy, the United States public health service and the veterans' bureau, and also provides nurses for the various activities of the Red Cross. The advice of this service on nursing standards is sought by Red Cross societies throughout the world. Forty-one Red Cross nurses are now on duty with the army, 186 with the navy, 209 with the public health service and 1,010 in hospitals of the veterans' bureau caring for disabled ex-service men. Ninety-three nurses are on foreign duty, 27 of them in the Near East. The benefit derived from meals balanced to meet each person's peculiar needs is winning widespread recognition through the work of the Red Cross nutrition service, particularly in the schools. During the last year 2,688 schools carried on regular instruction in nutrition, reaching more than 150,000 children and adults. Red Cross volunteers to the number of 2,250 assisted in the work and 1,838 schools were assisted in supplying hot lunches and milk to their pupils. A feature of instruction which struck popular approval was the teaching of how to cut food costs without sacrificing food values.

Throughout the country 35,283 health meetings were held under Red Cross auspices, attended by approximately 255,000 persons. Health contacts, in fact, through this wide campaign for the production of a healthier and happier citizenry, aggregated 3,500,000 during the past year, contacts which would otherwise have been impossible except for the various health services and the American Red Cross.

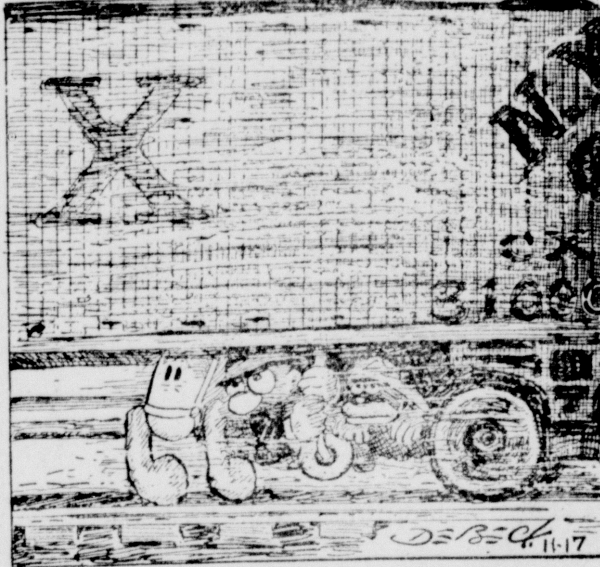

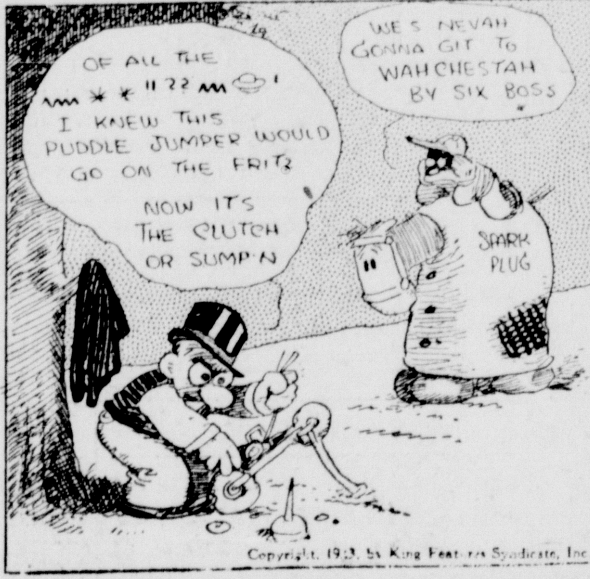

Probably Meant Calamity.
A city gentleman was trying to explain to a country rube what "collision" meant.
City Gentleman—When two things strike, or come unexpectedly together. It is a collision. Now do you know what a collision is?
Country Rube—Yes.
City Gentleman—What?
Country Rube—Twins.

"What It Costs to Run Our Business"

An Army on the Payroll!

Here's another big item of expense on the public utility ledger.

You see the meter man when he comes to your door and perhaps a cashier and a few clerks when you go to pay your bill. But that's only the beginning of our payroll.

Behind your electric service are the men who work on the lines, the engineers in the great generating plants, the draughtsmen who plan out extensions of service, the repair men, the stokers, the telephone operators, the office force.

All must be adequately paid—the full "army" maintained whether times are good or ill, whether wages are high or low. A public utility can cut neither its payroll nor its force, as business and industry often do. Electric service is in demand night and day regardless of all economic conditions.
